Secretary Fairchild's report in connection with the president's message gives a splendid ground-work for the democratic house to build on.

Most of the large towns in Massachusetts voted for high license instead of prohibition. Twenty years ago nearly all these towns would have voted for prohibition. The change in sentiment is partly due to population. The proportion of foreign-born population in all these cities has largely increased. Another reason is that prohibition has not prohibited in the large cities and has only provoked disrespect of the law. There is a large element in Massachusetts now in favor of high license which will be for prohibition when the law can be enforced.

The annual suggestion that the coinage of silver be [illegible] added in whole or in part was given in the report of the secretary of the treasury. A much wiser course would have been for Secretary Fairchild to have said that previous secretaries had erred in predicting [illegible] ate trouble from the coinage of silver and that, while he agreed with his predecessors in theory, he would not repeat the old [illegible]. The suggestion that the silver certificate gradually take the place of the greenback is a good one. Until this is done there will always be the danger which an irredeemable paper currency threatens.

The president has made a [illegible] gestion by his message. If the house follows in the line of his suggestions in preparing [illegible] ative reductions in our tariff which shall not reduce the price of [illegible] or injure any industry, it [illegible] the democratic party will be in good shape for the election next year. If the republicans make [illegible] legislation will remain with the democrats. If the republican senate defeats it, it can accept the responsibility of going before the country in favor of raising taxes that are not needed. But the democracy of the house does not warrant any assumption that it will act wisely. It always acts unwisely in a crisis.

The postoffice department has made many rulings recently which have been a serious inconvenience to business. The third assistant postmaster general [illegible] to compel all newspapers [illegible] to weigh mail at the trains so that the large morning papers can catch the early mails. Another proposed hardship was to weigh and stamp each package separately. This would effectively prevent the large dailies from using the mail, as it would take too long to do this. The law may be indefinite. If so, congress can make it more plain. But the law shall not be used to embarrass legitimate business.

We publish elsewhere an interesting sketch of the family of Sadi-Carnot from the Chicago Tribune. The bare outlines of his life are given as follows by an exchange:

Francois Sadi Carnot was born in Limoges August 11, 1837. He is the grandson of the great Lazare Carnot, the member of the committee of public safety who is known in history as the "organizer of victory," and who defended Antwerp against the allies in 1814. His father was a senator and was minister of public instruction in 1848. Sadi Carnot is an engineer by profession. He entered the Ecole Polytechnique at the age of 21, and is a graduate of the Ecole des Ponts et Chaussees, where he obtained the highest position in the school. Then he entered the great plan of family of the Polytechnicians with whom Boulanger is now in state of open warfare and whose interests there for took upon marrying Sadi Carnot. [illegible] Carnot's first appointment was as a [illegible] engineer at Alencon, and he remained in the Ponts et Chaussees department until the fall of the empire. In January, 1871, he was appointed prefect of the Seine-Inferieure and commissioner of navy and public [illegible] for the organization of Rouen and Cherbourg. He first entered parliament as a member for Calvados, which he has represented in the national [illegible] July and regularly since 1871. He occupied successively the position of under secretary and minister of public works, and in the cabinets of De Freycinet and Rouvier held the portfolio of finance. Nevertheless finance Sadi Carnot displayed remarkable foresight and courage in the effort to put down the [illegible] of the Panama [illegible] and in suggesting [illegible] of [illegible] ending the [illegible] Another quality Monsieur Carnot possesses is the [illegible] necessary to carry the confidence of the national assembly [illegible] day. For to succeed in all efforts in opposing the Elysee for several years to [illegible]. As a distinguished Legitimist observed, "Congress has elected us a homme rond."

Physically the new president is rather young of most than [illegible] He is [illegible] feet [illegible] inches high, with [illegible] eyes and hair [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] Carnot. He speaks with [illegible] accuracy. The [illegible] of the Elysee is the number of Mr. Benjamin White, a rich American gentleman who, like his predecessor, is to govern and [illegible] of that grand hotel. Her receptions at the Elysee were always well attended and [illegible] the ease and elegance which [illegible] for the Parisian entertainments at the Elysee. The peculiar little [illegible] of each of the guests [illegible] to avoid [illegible] [illegible] were born under the revolution when [illegible] [illegible] were brought, was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] created a sensation in Paris at the time. Report is current that the president will now drop the [illegible] and be known simply as Carnot.

A Prohibition Victory.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, December 7.—The Sioux Brewing company and Seidel Brewing company have closed their doors. The [illegible] say they are through with the manufacture here in Iowa. The legal complications involved in the prohibitory law having been decided against the brewers they withdrew from any further contest.

THE [illegible] HOUSE

[illegible] AND PIKE'S PEAK AVE.

[illegible]

C. W. Kittridge, of Four Mile, visited the city yesterday.

Notice the business locals of W. F. Reed, which appear this morning.

The local surgeon of the Colorado Midland railway in this city is Dr. A. B. Gale.

County Judge J. B. Steele yesterday united Mr. Samuel Cantrell and Miss Mary N. Fox, both of Manitou.

Mr. John Kloepfer has opened a barber shop on Huerfano street one door west of the office of the Wells, Fargo Express company.

The county commissioners will have a special meeting next Monday to receive bids for the construction of several new cells in the county jail.

Reserved seats were placed on sale at Bell & Jeffrey's drug store yesterday morning for the Abbott engagement at the opera house next Monday.

Notice the change in the time of the arrival and departure of the Leadville trains on the Denver and Rio Grande railway, which appears this morning.

Mr. A. Hemenway, the South Tejon street grocer, is handling a very fine line of fall and winter apples which he is prepared to sell at retail or by the barrel.

The funeral of Mrs. J. A. Hanchaugh will take place at the family residence on South Tejon street this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The friends of the family are invited to attend.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank will be held on January 10th next for the purpose of electing a board of directors for the ensuing year.

The Fireman's band will probably visit Pueblo on the 15th of the month to participate in the grand celebration in honor of the completion of the Missouri Pacific railroad to that city.

The plans of the new Congregational church to be built on the north west corner of Tejon and St. Vrain streets will soon be submitted to contractors for estimates.

Mr. C. L. Gillingham, the photographer is making special preparations for the holiday trade. In addition to his regular photographic business, he is handling a full line of picture cards of the famous Colorado wild flowers, novelties, etc.

Mr. Ed Newton who owned a half interest in the saw mill of W. H. Hill & Co., as reported in the Gazette of Monument, will continue to operate the mill with Mr. Ed Fuller's assistance. Mr. Hill died at Monument last Sunday night, after a lingering illness.

The police magistrate yesterday fined a man $5 and costs, amounting in all to $8.50, for riding his horse upon a sidewalk. The city authorities have determined to enforce this ordinance which nearly everybody is violating with impunity.

The basket which was presented to Chief Ferris by the fire department on Tuesday evening will be on exhibition in the window of Davis' jewelry store today. Those who enjoy seeing a fine specimen of engraving should not fail to see this beautiful emblem.

Mrs. Byron Fryer sister of Mr. G. W. Davis, left yesterday for her home at Fargo, Dakota. Mrs. Fryer has been in the city for several weeks during which time she has formed many pleasant acquaintances. Her friends in Colorado Springs sincerely regret her departure.

Mr. [illegible] of the "Novelty," has decorated his establishment for the holiday season. The store room presents a very inviting and attractive appearance. The Novelty is fully stocked for the holidays with a fine line of toys, stationery, books, novelties, etc.

After the first of January Mr. Henry Krauz will move his tonsorial parlors to the room adjoining his present quarters, now occupied by Dr. W. E. Sutton. In the meantime Krauz will be on hand to attend to the wants of his customers.

We call attention to the assignment notice of Mr. M. O. Sullivan in our business locals this morning. Mr. Sullivan is a first class merchant in his line and has had many years of valuable experience while devoted the suit of clothes at the St. Francis bazaar for the drawing for which ticket No. [illegible] drew.

The sale of fancy and useful articles will be continued today, commencing at 10 o'clock at the Big Ed, on the house of Grace Episcopal church. Luncheon and supper will be served consisting of chicken salad, boiled chicken, stewed oysters, tea, coffee and cake. A quantity of home made candy on sale.

The demand for home made bread at the Woman's Exchange has been so great that many have been disappointed who wish to buy it. Arrangements have been made for a much larger supply and it is hoped in the future there will be enough for all. The services of several fine cake bakers have been secured and orders for parties can be filled at short notice.

The Manitou water works will soon be completed. The main on the principal street of the town has been entirely laid, and water will soon be turned into it. The storage reservoir will not be completed for a few weeks, and until it is finished the new system cannot be put into practical operation. Some complaint has been made that the water is shut off at Manitou every night shortly after nine o'clock and that the town is practically unprotected from fire.

The special election of the tax payers of the town of Manitou, which was held on Tuesday, for the purpose of ratifying or rejecting the sale of the present town hall to Mr. M. A. Leddy, by the board of trustees, created some excitement and feeling. The vote resulted 27 for the sale, 24 against the sale. There not being the necessary majority of two thirds in the affirmative the sale made by the trustees was not ratified.

When the Sisters of St. Francis are located in their new hospital building, it is their intention not only to provide for the wants of all who may be intrusted to their care, but they will go to private houses in the capacity of nurses, if their services are demanded. They will make no charge for their labors, and will go as readily to the homes of the poor as well as to those who are comfortably situated in life. The facilities of the sisters for nursing are too limited to permit of their accommodating the next to the number of sisters which this charitable work would require.

Those who have not secured their seats for the approaching Emma Abbott opera engagement should attend to the matter at once, as the advance sale is very large, and betokens a crowded house for the favorite prima donna. The sparkling comic opera, "Carnival of Venice," is a melodious pot-pourri, a succession of tuneful airs and rollicking choruses. The music has the effervescent sparkle of champagne, and the libretto is a perfect kaleidoscope of [illegible] comedy and exuberant fun. There are many amusing situations and funny speeches, and a beautiful military drill in which every member of the company participates. Allen the comedian, and Annandale, the charming contralto, have some original funny business, that is sure to capture the house. Miss Abbott has a delightful part and will sing the "Lullaby from Erminie." Altogether the evening promises to be of more than usual attractions, and the Abbott company is sure to again capture the city as in their former engagement.
